Democratic Candidate for United States Senator.

UNCLE SAM AFTER BOOZE CROOKS

When United States District Attorney Clynne returns from Washington a lot of sensational moves are predicted in the three-cornered investigation of the operations of crooked political booze grafters. Among the things reported already are:

The appearance in Washington of District Attorney Clynne to confer with Attorney General Palmer about wholesale indictment of hotel men, saloonkeepers and official grafters in the prohibition service.

The arrival in Chicago of Chief Commissioner William Williams from Washington to investigate charges of corruption of prohibition agents and of illegal removals of several million dollars' worth of whisky from warehouses.

The concerted drive was the result of recent revelations that whisky was being moved through the connivance of prohibition agents and policemen. The details of the wholesale traffic in liquor in Chicago were revealed by a series of articles in The Herald and Examiner.

Grand jury action which will result in the indictment of high government officials is expected upon the return of District Attorney Clynne.

That officials or agents have received $20 a case for each of the thousands of cases of whisky that has been moved through the streets and sold over bars is one of the charges

Mr. Clynne will make to the authorities in Washington.

The traffic has netted hundreds of thousands to bootleggers, it is said. Commissioner Williams told Special Agents Frank Richardson, A. P. Madden and Herbert Lucas Monday that no official is too big or too high to be brought under their scrutiny.

It was asserted that the appointment of Ralph Stone to succeed Capt. Howard was only temporary.

Frank Richardson, a special agent who has made many successful investigations during the past eight months, has been mentioned as his successor.

Richardson was sent to Chicago from Washington and through his efforts a score of big tax dodgers were forced to disgorge. He is said to be one of the cleverest investigators in the service.

RE-ELECT A. W. MILLER CLERK OF THE CIRCUIT COURT

Colonel August W. Miller has made a splendid record as Clerk of the Circuit Court and he deserves re-election.

Colonel Miller is a candidate for renomination at the hands of his fellow Republicans, and all lovers of good government and people who believe in rewarding faithful public service should vote for him.

Resigned in 1911 to accept appointment by the county clerk as Assistant Chief Clerk of the Tax Extension Department, having charge of the preparation of all warrants for the collection of general taxes in Cook county, a work requiring an expert knowledge of real estate locations and descriptions. Resigned this position in 1915 to become state bank examiner, in which capacity he served until 1917, and in that year returned to the county clerk's office as Chief Clerk of the Redemption Department. The head of this department must have a very complete understanding of the laws pertaining to titles, taxes and tax titles and the records prove that the work of this office during Mr. Crowe's term was performed in a manner highly satisfactory to all concerned. Remained with the county clerk until 1919, when he was appointed chief clerk to the county treasurer, which position he now holds.

ROBERT E. BURKE'S PLATFORM

Robert E. Burke, whose petition signed by 2,000 democratic voters has been filed as a candidate for United States senator has announced his platform in an address to the voters of Illinois. He says that:

He is opposed to the League of Nations.

He favors the independence of Ireland and the self-determination of every small nation on earth.

He believes in jailing the profiteers in order to reduce the high cost of living.

He is a friend of organized labor.

Although a total abstainer himself, he is against prohibition and wants the 18th Amendment repealed. He believes in personal liberty.

He believes in increasing the salaries of postal employees.

He believes in giving every soldier, sailor and marine in the late war a bonus.

He believes in the freedom of the seas.

He points to the fact that he was elected delegate at large to the Democratic National Convention on an anti-Wilson platform four years ago. That he was the only delegate in the convention to vote against Wilson and that he is proud of that vote now more than ever.

Charles Mollitor, a recognized leader in the machinery trade, is one of Chicago's leading and most reliable business men. His name is honored wherever he is known.

Alderman William R. Fetzer's Name Is Tenth on the Republican Primary Ballot, Where He Is Seeking the Nomination for Judge of the Municipal Court.

torney from 1909 to 1913, and was elected alderman from the Seventh ward in 1917 and has served continuously in the council since then.

Alderman Fetzer is a member of the Chicago Bar Association, the Illinois State Bar Association, the Lawyers' Association, is a Mason of high rank and wide connections, is a member of Chicago Lodge No. 4, B. P. O. Elks; Woodlawn Park Lodge, I. O. O. F.; Onawa Tribe, I. O. Red Men; the Woodlawn Park Club, the Chicago Automobile Club and the Woodlawn Business Men's Association.

Alderman Fetzer's public record has been generally commended by the press and the public.

As chairman of the public health committee he made a long and forceful fight for the reduction of the high cost of living. He led a Chicago civic and official delegation to Washington last January and appeared before the joint committee on agriculture and forestry of the United States Congress in urging protection for the people against profiteers.

Alderman Fetzer has been a consistent advocate of a tag day for policemen and firemen.

"One of the first things that challenged my attention when I entered the council," said Alderman Fetzer today, "was the low salaries paid to city employees, particularly policemen and firemen."

"I persistently fought for better salaries for city employees during my two terms in office as alderman. I worked hard as a member of the finance committee for better pay for city employees."

"During the consideration of the 1920 budget by the city council, I introduced an amendment increasing ward appropriations for ash and garbage removal to the extent of $800,000, which was passed."

Secretary of State Louis L. Emmerson is making a fine record and many friends by the able and efficient manner in which he conducts his great office.

Maurice T. Cullerton is much respected as a leader in labor circles.

Co-operation

To get the best out of telephone service there must be co-operation among subscribers, as well as between the Company and subscribers.

The person calling should:

Be ready when the person called answers.

Speak in a well-modulated tone—not too loud.

Speak distinctly, with the lips close to but not touching the mouthpiece.

The person called should answer promptly. Both should avoid long telephone conversations, which result in busy signals to other subscribers who may want to get one or both of these telephones.
